For the CANONICAL order and place of the Prophets, see Ap. 1, and p. 1206.

For the CHRONOLOGICAL order of the Prophets, see Ap. 77.

For the Inter-relation of the Prophetic Books, see Ap. 78.

For the Formulae of prophetic utterance, see Ap. 82.

For References to the Pentateuch by the Prophets, see Ap. 92.

For the Inter-relation of the Minor (or Shorter) Prophets, see pp. 1206-7.

The clue to the date is given in 1. 1 : which, by comparison with 2 Kings 14. 25, falls within the time of Jeroboam II and the earlier years of Uzziah : therefore about 690 B.C. (see Ap. 50, p. 59).

Modern critics are practically unanimous in declaring that the book is a "combination of allegory and myth". But the fact that Jonah the prophet was a historic personage is settled by 2 Kings 14. 25. And the fact that the prophecy, with its great miracle, was referred to by Christ as a type of Himself, places the book in as high a position as any other prophecy.

The Century Bible says that "we are not to conclude that the literal validity of the history of Jonah is established by this reference" (note on Matt. 12. 40, p. 206). But, apart from the fact that the Lord referred to the Queen of Sheba in the very next sentence, and thus places Jonah on the same level of "literal validity", the question is placed beyond all controversy by the further fact that seven times in John's Gospel the Lord declared that every one of His words that He uttered was given Him to speak by the Father (see below). Those who strike at these words of Christ are striking at God Himself, and are making the whole of Divine Revelation of none effect. All the puerile and fanciful assumptions used for arguments are swept away with one stroke, and are overwhelmed by this decisive and conclusive fact. Modern critics must now perforce find the answers to their own objections. We need not be at the pains to repeat the refutation of their assumption, that, because certain words have not been required or necessitated by the subjects of the earlier Scriptures, therefore such words did not exist before, and are thus evidences of the book's being written at a later period of time. Only a mind already hostile could invent such a proposition, and only those who are ignorant of "the laws of evidence" could make use of it.

The prophecy of Jonah is literal history, and is besides a twofold type.

(1) He was a type of the death, burial, and resurrection of our Lord : see Matt. 12. 40, where the "as" and the "so" are sufficient to show us that a man's being miraculously kept alive for a particular period can be no type of another's being dead and buried for the same period.

As our Lord was raised from the dead at the end of that period (see Ap. 156), so Jonah must have been, as miraculously, raised from the dead.

Jonah's prayer could have been uttered in the last few moments of life. In any case the words of the prayer were not written down till after he had been vomited up alive (Jonah 2. 1-10).

(2) "As Jonah was a sign unto the Ninevites, so shall also the Son of Man be to this generation" (Luke 11. 30).

That generation were as grieved and angry at the faith and repentance of those to whom the resurrection of our Lord was proclaimed, as Jonah was at the repentance of the Ninevites.

Both these types were hidden in the history by the One Who knew the end from the beginning, and are declared to be so by Him of Whom Jehovah said, "I will put My words in His mouth".

Seven times in John's Gospel our Lord testified to the fulfilment of that promise :—

"My doctrine (i.e. teaching) is not Mine, but His that sent Me" (7. 16).

"As My Father hath taught Me, I speak these things" (8. 28).

"Why do ye not believe Me? He that is of God heareth God's words : ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God" (8. 46, 47).

"I have not spoken of (or from) Myself ; but the Father which sent Me, He gave me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak" (12. 49).

"The words that I speak unto you I speak not of (i.e. from) Myself : but the Father that dwelleth in Me" (14. 10).

"The word which ye hear is not Mine, but the Father's Which sent Me" (14. 24).

"I have given unto them the words which Thou [the Father] gavest Me" (17. 8).

The Century Bible (Jonah ; Introduction, p. 200) may say : "It is humiliating for a commentator to collect doubtful stories of sailors swallowed by sharks and vomited out alive." There is truth in this. But if we recognise the fact that the word "alive", includes the thought of resurrection, then we have ample evidence that this is conveyed and taught by the "as" and "so" in Matt. 12. 40. In any case we have to remember the words of Jehovah in Deut. 18. 18, 19 : "I will put My words in His mouth, and He shall speak unto them all that I shall command Him. And it shall come to pass, that whosoever will not hearken to My words which He shall speak in My name, I will require it of him." We leave the question with these solemn words : "I will require it of him."

The notes will show us Jonah, not as a wayward, thoughtless child, but as a "man of God", willing to sacrifice himself (mistakenly, of course) in order to save his nation. He knew that Assyria at that time was in great difficulties. There is a silence of eighteen years in Assyrian history at that time, and the surrounding nations were beginning to assert themselves. Jonah had just been commissioned to encourage Israel to a restored position (2 Kings 14. 25, 26). He must have known also that Nineveh (Assyria) was to be Jehovah's rod of judgment for Israel. He knew the well-known character of Jehovah, and feared that if he made Jehovah's proclamation Nineveh might repent, and her overthrow be averted. See Jehovah's words (4. 2).

If, however, for the sake of his nation, he did not make the proclamation at all, Nineveh might be overthrown and Israel saved. He was mistaken, and had to be corrected (ch. 4. 4-11).

The great lesson of the book is—not "Jehovah's care for children and cattle", &c., but that the devices of man shall not frustrate His purpose, and that what He hath said shall surely come to pass.

That is the lesson which gives to the book a dignity and importance which is worthy of it, and of its place in the Word of God.

JONAH.

690 A
(p. 1248)

1 NOW ° the word of ° the LORD came unto ° Jonah ° the son of ° Amittai, saying,

B 2 ° "Arise, go to ° Nineveh, that great city, and ° cry against it; for ° their ° wickedness is come up before Me."

C 3 But ° Jonah ° rose up to flee unto ° Tarshish ° from the presence of ° the LORD, and went down to ° Joppa; and he found a ° ship going to ° Tarshish: so ° he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it, to go with them unto Tarshish ° from the presence of ° the LORD.

D A D F

4 But ° the LORD sent out a great ° wind into the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea,

G so that the ° ship ° was like to be broken.

E H

5 Then the ° mariners were afraid, and ° cried ° every man unto his god, and cast forth the ° wares that were in the ° ship into the sea, to lighten it of them. But Jonah was gone down ° into the sides of the ° ship; and he lay, and was fast asleep.

6 So the ° shipmaster came to him, and said unto him, "What meanest thou, O sleeper? arise, call upon thy ° God, if so be that ° God will think upon us, that we perish not."

1. 1 the word of the LORD came. This statement is unanswerable, and covers the truth of the whole contents of this book. This, or a like expression occurs seven times in Jonah (1. 1; 2. 10; 3. 1, 3; 4. 4, 9, 10).

the LORD. Heb. Jehovah. Ap. 4. II.

Jonah is the prophet named and described in 2 Kings 14. 25. He was a native of Gath-hepher, now el Meshhed, three miles north-east of Nazareth. Nazareth was in Galilee (see Ap. 169). The statement of the Pharisees in John 7. 52 was not true.

the son of Amittai. See 2 Kings 14. 25.

Amittai = the truth of Jehovah.

2 Arise, go. Contrast "rose up to flee" (v. 3).

Nineveh. Op. Gen. 10. 11, 12. Mentioned again in 3. 2, 3; 4. 11. The capital of Assyria, on the left bank of the Tigris. Called first Nina, from the patron goddess of the city; of Babylonian origin; founded by a colony from Nina in South Babylonia (see Records of the Past, vol. iv, part ii, p. 61). Khammurabi, 1915 B.C. (on Companion Bible dating), code iv, pp. 60-62, spells it Ni-nu-a. Excavations reveal "the mound of Nebi-Yunus crowned by the tomb of Jonah, which could not then be explored" (see Art. "Nineveh" in the Encycl. Brit., 11th (Cambridge) edition, 1911).

cry against it. Not whisper or speak softly, but cry, as making a general proclamation. Heb. kara'. Cp. Judg. 7. 3, 20. Isa. 58. 1. Joel 3. 9. Amos 4. 6, &c. Cp. also vv. 2, 6; 3. 2.

their wickedness. Nineveh was noted for violence and cruelty of all kinds, recorded in its own bas-reliefs, &c. (see Nah. 2. 8-13). Ref. to Pent. (Gen. 18. 20, 21). wickedness. Heb. pl. of ra'a'. Ap. 44. viii.

3 rose up to flee. Jonah knew that Assyria was to be God's sword of judgment against Israel. If Nineveh perished, Israel might be saved. God's mercy might arrest this overthrow of Nineveh. Was this why Jonah would sacrifice himself to save his nation? This would explain his flight here, and his displeasure, as clearly stated in 4. 1-3. When he said (v. 12), "Take me up", &c., he had counted the cost. He confesses to the men (vv. 9, 10), but not to God. He gave his life to save his People. The type of Christ may have begun here. See Gal. 3. 13; and cp. Rom. 9. 1-3.

presence of the LORD. Ref. to Pent. (Gen. 4. 16). Ap. 92. Tarshish. See note on 1 Kings 10. 22. from the ship. Heb. 'aniyāh = any large merchant ship. Not the same word as in v. -5. he paid the fare: and counted the cost of his flight. See notes on the Structure, p. 1247.

4 wind. Heb. rūach. Ap. 9. salts. Heb. mallāch = salt. every man. Heb. 'ish. Ap. 14. II. sides = below deck, or cabins. Cp. Ezek. 32. 23. Amos 6. 10. sphinah. A genuine Heb. word, borrowed by inland people, (Syrians, Chaldeans and Arabians), from a maritime people; not vice versa. Heb. root ṣaphan = to cover (Deut. 33. 21 (marg. ceiled). 1 Kings 6. 9; 7. 3, 7. Jer. 22. 14. Hag. 1. 4). English "deck" is from Dutch dekken. Phoenician for captain. Heb. rab hachobēl. Not a "later word", because a "captain" is not mentioned earlier. Rab = captain, or head. See 2 Kings 25. 8. Est. 1. 8. Dan. 1. 3. Chobēl occurs in Ezek. 27. 8, 27, 28, 29, where it is rendered "pilot". God. Heb. Elohim (with 'eth) = the true God. With 'eth, in the second occurrence. Ap. 4. I.

8 for whose cause, &c.=for what cause. The lot had told them the person, but not the "cause". So they appeal to Jonah.

9 he said, &c. He does not tell them all. We find the real reason in 4. 1-3.

Hebrew. Referring to the language spoken. A title used in relation to foreigners (Gen. 40. 15. Ex. 3. 18, &c.) the God of heaven. The title in relation to the Creator's creatures. See note on 2 Chron. 36. 23.

Why . . . ? They knew the fact of his flight, but not the reason, which is not revealed till 4. 1-3. This is not therefore "a later addition", as alleged.

11 wrought, &c.=grew more and more tempestuous. Heb. "was going on and raging".

12 Take me up . . . I know. He had counted the cost.

13 rowed hard. The tackling had gone. See note on "wares", v. 5. bring it=bring it back.

cast him, &c. Why are we to assume that the result was different in this case from that in every other, unless so stated? It must have been death. See note on p. 1247.

16 offered, &c.=sacrificed: i.e. they vowed that they would offer [when they landed]. Heb. zēbach. Ap. 43. I. iv, and II. xii.

17 prepared=appointed, or assigned. From Heb. mānāh, to number. Hence, to appoint, as in Job 7. 3. Dan. 1. 5, 10, 11; and Chald. menah (Dan. 5. 25, 26). Cp. 4. 6-8. Never means to create.

great fish. Large enough to swallow him. In Matt. 12. 40, Greek kētos=any large marine monster; whence Cetaceae=the mammalian order of fish. No need for any name. Cp. Matt. 12. 20; 16. 4. Luke 11. 30.

swallow up . . . belly. Not therefore kept alive in the fish's mouth, as some imagine. When thus swallowed up, Jonah must have died, and thus became a type of Christ. The "as" and "so" in Matt. 12. 40 require Jonah's death. He would have been no type if he had been miraculously kept alive. See further notes below.

was=came to be. belly=bowels. three days and three nights. The Heb. idiom "three days" can be used for parts of three days (and even of years): but not when the word "nights" is added. See Matt. 12. 40, and note the force of "as". See App. 144, and 156.

Professor Rawlinson has shown that just at this time Nineveh was in a time of trouble, and Assyrian history was "shrouded in darkness for forty years" (Ancient Monarchies, vol. ii. pp. 379, 380). Hope was given to all the neighbouring countries which were asserting their independence. This explains the readiness of Nineveh to hearken and obey, as was done on another occasion when the prophets of Nineveh declared it needful (see Professor Sayce, The Higher Criticism and the Monuments, pp. 489, 490); by the Persians in a national trouble; in Greece, a fast which included cattle (Herodotus, ix. 24); and by Alexander the Great (Plutarch, Pelop. §§ 33, 34). This decline of Nineveh gave hope to Israel: which hope had been encouraged by the prophet Jonah himself (2 Kings 14. 25-27). This may have been the reason for Jonah's not wishing to avert the overthrow (v. 4) of Nineveh, by giving it the opportunity to repent and thus secure Jehovah's favour (Joel 2. 14). See notes on p. 1247. We thus have veritable history, and not allegory.

690 and he arose from his throne, and he laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, and sat in ashes.

k (p. 1251) 7 And he caused it to be proclaimed and published through Nineveh by the decree of the king and his °nobles, saying, "Let neither °man nor beast, °herd nor flock, taste any thing: let them not feed, nor drink water:

8 But let °man and beast be covered with sackcloth, and cry mightily unto °God: yea, let them turn every one from his °evil way, and from the violence that is in their hands.

9 °Who can tell °if °God will turn and repent, and turn away from His fierce anger, that we perish not?"

i 10 And °God saw their works, that they turned from their °evil way; and °God °repented °of the °evil, that He had said that He would do unto them; and He did it not.

*M*² N m 4 But it °displeased Jonah exceedingly, and he was very angry.

n 2 And he prayed unto °the LORD, and said, "I pray thee, O °LORD, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? °Therefore I fled before unto Tarshish: for °I knew that Thou art a gracious °GOD, and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repentest Thee of the °evil.

3 Therefore now, O °LORD, take, I beseech Thee, my °life from me; for it is better for me to die than to live."

O 4 Then said °the LORD, "Doest thou well to be angry?"

P Q o 5 So Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the east side of the city, and there °made him a °booth, and sat under it in the shadow, till he might see what would °become of the city.

p 6 And °the LORD °God °prepared a °gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a °shadow over his head, °to deliver him from his °grief.

R So Jonah °was exceeding glad of the gourd.

P Q p 7 But °God °prepared a °worm when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the °gourd that it withered.

o 8 And it came to pass, when the sun did arise, that °God °prepared a °vehement °east °wind; and the sun beat upon the head of Jonah, that he fainted,

1 displeased = vexed. Not the waywardness of a child, but the displeasure of a man of God, for great and sufficient reason to him. Now that Nineveh was spared, it might after all be used as God's rod for Israel, and thus destroy the hope held out by him to Israel in 2 Kings 14. 25-27. See note on 3. 5 and p. 1247.

Therefore I fled = hasted to flee. The reason follows, as explained in note on v. 1.

I knew. This was well known, from Jehovah's revelation of Himself. Jonah knew, and referred to the Pent. (Ex. 34. 6. Num. 14. 18, 19). David knew (Ps. 86. 5). Hosea knew (Hos. 11. 8, 9). Joel knew (Joel 2. 13). Micah knew (Mic. 7. 18). Jonah's knowledge explains his flight (1. 3). No one could tell us this but himself.

pity on the 'gourd, for the which thou hast not laboured, neither madest it grow; which ° came up in a night, and ° perished in a night:

11 And ° should not 3 spare Nineveh, that great city, wherein ° are more than sixscore thousand persons ° that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand; and also ° much cattle?"

came up in a night = was the son of a night. perished in a night = perished as the son of a night. 11 should not 3 . . . ? Fig. Erotēsis (Ap. 6), no answer being required.

are = exist. Heb. yēsh. See note on Prov. 8. 21. that cannot discern, &c. Put by Heb. Idiom (Ap. 6), for little children; a similar idiom in Deut. 1. 39. Ap. 92 much cattle. See notes on "great city", 8. 2; and "herd and flock", 8. 7. Nineveh's walls included large areas for pasturage and cultivation. In speaking of the innocent ones in the city these are naturally included.

Thus the book suddenly ends; and we are left with the solemn reflection that, Nineveh being spared, the way was thus open for the execution of Jehovah's judgment on Israel by the sword of Assyria, which took place in due time.

The Prophecy of MICAH is dated as being given "in the days of JOTHAM, AHAZ, and HEZEKIAH, kings of Judah".

MICAH begins, apparently, a year or two before the end of Jotham's reign. Isaiah, in that case, had already been prophesying some seventeen or eighteen years.

By comparing 4. 10 with Isaiah 39. 6, we have another case of similar words occurring in two different prophets; and some, having concluded that one prophet copied from another, have built upon this, certain theories as to dates, &c. But no valid argument can be based on such coincidences: for the simple reason that we are not dealing with the words of the Prophets, but with the words which God spake by them (Heb. 1. 1, &c.). Surely God may speak the same message, even in identical words, by two, three, or more of His prophets. If the need were the same, why should not the words be the same? ¹

In this case, the period covered by Micah and Isaiah was almost exactly the same (cp. Mic. 1. 1 with Isa. 1. 1; and see Ap. 77). It is no wonder that the circumstances did call for similar utterances, constituting a confirmation of the Word of Jehovah "by the mouth of two or three witnesses". Both were independent, without any idea of "copying" one from the other, as is alleged by the writer in The Encyclopædia Britannica, eleventh (Cambridge) edition, 1910, 1911, vol. xviii, p. 357, who says: "it is impossible that much, if any, of these chapters (Mic. 4-7) can be ascribed to Micah himself". This is said in face of the fact that Jeremiah (26. 16-19) definitely quotes and refers to Micah.

Having regard to Mic. 1. 1, we see he must have been a contemporary of Isaiah for nine-and-twenty, or thirty years (Isaiah continuing for another seventeen or eighteen years if he died in the Manassean persecution. See Ap. 50, p. 68, and Ap. 77). We may thus date Micah as from 682 to 603 B.C.
