The Apostle Paul (1. 1). Date. Romans, the sixth in chronological order of Paul's Epistles, was written from Corinth during the apostle's third visit to that city (2 Cor. 13. 1), in A.D. 60. The Epistle has its occasion in the intention of the apostle soon to visit Rome. Naturally, he would wish to announce before his coming the distinctive truths which had been revealed to and through him. He would desire the Christians in Rome to have his own statement of the great doctrines of grace so bitterly assailed everywhere by legalistic teachers.

Theme. The theme of Romans is "the Gospel of God" (1. 1), the very widest possible designation of the whole body of redemption truth, for it is He with whom is "no respect of persons"; and who is not "the God of the Jews only," but "of the Gentiles also" (2. 11; 3. 29). Accordingly, "all the world" is found guilty (3. 19), and a redemption is revealed as wide as the need, upon the alone condition of faith. Not only does Romans embody in the fullest way the doctrines of grace in relation to salvation, but in three remarkable chapters (9.-11.) the great promises to Israel are reconciled with the promises concerning the Gentiles, and the fulfilment of the former shown to await the completion of the church and coming of the Deliverer out of Zion (11. 25-27). The key-phrase is "the righteousness of God" (1. 17; 3. 21, 22).

The Epistle, exclusive of the introduction (1. 1–17), is in seven parts: I. whole world guilty before God, 1. 18-3. 20. II. Justification through the righteousness of God by faith, the Gospel remedy for guilt, 3. 21-5. 11. III. Crucifixion with Christ, the resurrection life of Christ, and the walk in the Spirit, the Gospel provision for inherent sin, 5. 12–8. 13. IV. The full result in blessing of the Gospel, 8. 14-39. V. Parenthesis: the Gospel does not abolish the covenant promises to Israel, 9. 1-11. 36. VI. Christian life and service, 12. 1-15. 33. VII. The outflow of Christian love, 16, 1-27.

<sup>1</sup> The Heb. and Gr. words for salvation imply the ideas of deliverance, safety, preservation, healing, and soundness. Salvation is the great inclusive word of the Gospel, gathering into itself all the redemptive acts and processes: as justification, redemption, grace, propitiation, imputation, forgiveness, sanctification, and glorification. Salvation is in three tenses: (1) The believer has been saved from the guilt and penalty of sin (Lk. 7. 50; 1 Cor. 1. 18; 2 Cor. 2. 15; Eph. 2. 5, 8; 2 Tim. 1. 9) and is safe. (2) The believer is being saved from the habit and dominion of sin (Rom. 6. 14; Phil. 1. 19; 2. 12, 13; 2 Thes. 2. 13; Rom. 8. 2; Gal. 2. 19, 20; 2 Cor. 3. 18). (3) The believer is to be saved in the sense of entire conformity to Christ (Rom. 13. 11; Heb. 10. 36; 1 Pet. 1. 5; 1 John 3. 2). Salvation is by grace through faith, is a free gift, and wholly without works (Rom. 3. 27, 28; 4. 1-8; 6. 23; Eph. 2. 8). The divine order is: first salvation, then works (Eph. 2. 9, 10; Tit. 3. 5-8).

<sup>1</sup> The righteousness of God is neither an attribute of God, nor the changed character of the believer, but Christ Himself, who fully met in our stead and behalf every demand of the law, and who is, by the act of God called imputation (Lev. 25. 50; Jas. 2. 23), "made unto us . . . righteousness" (1 Cor. 1. 30). <sup>2</sup> Sin, Summary: The literal meanings of the Heb. and Gr. words variously rendered "sin," "sinner," etc., disclose the true nature of sin in its manifold manifestations. Sin is transgression, an overstepping of the law, the divine boundary between good and evil (Psa. 51. 1; Lk. 15. 29); iniquity, an act inherently wrong, whether expressly forbidden or not; error, a departure from right (Psa. 51.9; Rom. 3. 23); missing the mark, a failure to meet the divine standard; trespass, the intrusion of self-will into the sphere of divine authority (Eph. 2.1); lawlessness, or spiritual anarchy (1 Tim. 1. 9); unbelief, or an insult to the divine veracity (John 16. 9). Sin originated with Satan (Isa. 14. 12.14); entered the world through Adam (Rom. 5. 12); was, and is, universal, Christ alone excepted (Rom. 3. 23; 1 Pet. 2. 22); incurs the penalties of spiritual and physical death (Gen. 2. 17; 3. 19; Ezk. 18. 4, 20; Rom. 6. 23); and has no remedy but in the sacrificial death of Christ (Heb. 9. 26; Acts 4. 12) availed of by faith (Acts 13. 38, 39). Sin may be summarized as threefold: An act, the violation of, or want of obedience to the revealed will of God; a state. absence of righteousness; a nature, enmity toward God.

<sup>1</sup> Redemption, "to deliver by paying a price." The N.T. doctrine. The N.T. records the fulfilment of the O.T. types and prophecies of redemption through the sacrifice of Christ. The completed truth is set forth in the three words which are translated redemption: (1) agorazo, "to purchase in the market." The underlying thought is of a slave-market. The subjects of redemption are "sold under sin" (Rom. 7. 14), but are, moreover, under sentence of death (Ezk. 18. 4; John 3. 18, 19; Rom. 3. 19; Gal. 3. 10), and the purchase price is the blood of the Redeemer who dies in their stead (Gal. 3. 13; 2 Cor. 5. 21; Mt. 20. 28; Mk. 10. 45; 1 Tim. 2. 6; 1 Pet. 1. 18); (2) exagorazo, "to buy out of the market." The redeemed are never again to be exposed to sale; (3) lutroo, "to loose," "to set free by paying a price" (John 8. 32; Gal. 4. 4, 5, 31; 5. 13; Rom. 8. 21). Redemption is by sacrifice and by power (Ex. 14. 30, note); Christ paid the price, the Holy Spirit makes deliverance actual in experience (Rom. 8. 2). See also Ex. 14. 30, note; Isa. 59. 20; Rom. 1. 16, note.

<sup>2</sup> Lit. a propitiatory [sacrifice], through faith by his blood; Gr. hilasterion, "place of propitiation." The word occurs, 1 John 2. 2; 4. 10, as the trans. of hilasmos, "that which propitiates," "a propitiatory sacrifice." Hilasterion is used by the Septuagint, and in Heb. 9. 5 for "mercy-seat." The mercy-seat was sprinkled with atoning blood on the day of atonement (Lev. 16. 14), in token that the righteous sentence of the law had been (typically) carried out, so that what must else have been a judgment-seat could righteously be a mercy-seat (Heb. 9. 11-15; 4. 14-16), a place of communion (Ex. 25. 21, 22). In fulfilment of the type, Christ is Himself the hilasmos, "that which propitiates," and the hilasterion, "the place of propitiation"—the mercy-seat sprinkled with His own blood -the token that in our stead He so honoured the law by enduring its righteous sentence that God, who ever foresaw the cross, is vindicated in having "passed over" sins from Adam to Moses (Rom. 5. 13) and the sins of believers under the old covenant (Ex. 29. 33, note), and just in justifying sinners under the new covenant. There is no thought in propitiation of placating a vengeful God, but of doing right by His holy law and so making it possible for Him righteously to show mercy.

3 "His righteousness" here is God's consistency with His own law and holiness in freely justifying a sinner who believes in Christ; that is, one in whose behalf

Christ has met every demand of the law (Rom. 10. 4).

<sup>4</sup> Justification. Summary: Justification and righteousness are inseparably united in Scripture by the fact that the same word (dikaios, "righteous"; dikaioo, "to justify") is used for both. The believing sinner is justified because Christ, having borne his sins on the cross, has been "made unto him righteousness" (1 Cor. 1. 30). Justification originates in grace (Rom. 3. 24; Tit. 3. 4, 5); is through the redemptive and propitiatory work of Christ, who has vindicated the law (Rom. 3. 24, 25; 5. 9); is by faith, not works (Rom. 3. 28-30; 4. 5; 5. 1; Gal. 2. 16; 3. 8, 24); and may be defined as the judicial act of God whereby He justly declares righteous one who believes on Jesus Christ. It is the Judge Himself (Rom. 8. 31-34) who thus declares. The justified believer has been in court, only to learn that nothing is laid to his charge (Rom. 8. 1, 33, 34).

<sup>5</sup> The sinner establishes the law in its right use and honour by confessing his guilt, and acknowledging that by it he is justly condemned. Christ, on the sinner's behalf, establishes the law by enduring its penalty, death. Cf. Mt. 5. 17, 18.

(4) Justification by faith illustrated.

WHAT shall we say then that Abraham our father, as pertaining to the flesh, hath found?

2 For if Abraham were <sup>a</sup>justified by 1works, he hath whereof to glory: but not before God.

3 For what saith the scripture? Abraham believed God, and it was dcounted unto him for erighteousness.

4 Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of fgrace, but of debt.

(5) Justifying faith defined. (See also vs. 18-21.)

5 But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his gfaith is dcounted for righteousness.

9 Cometh this blessedness then upon the circumcision only, or upon the uncircumcision also? for we say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness.

(7) Justification is apart from the law.

13 For the promise, that he should be the heir of the kworld, was not to Abraham, or to his seed, through the law, but through the righteousness of faith.

14 For if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise made of none effect:

15 Because the law worketh wrath: for where no law is. there is no htransgression.

16 Therefore it is of faith, that it might be by grace; to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham; who is

19 And being not weak in faith, he considered not his own body now dead, when he was about an hundred years old, neither yet the deadness of Sarah's womb:

20 He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief; but was strong in faith, giving glory to God;

21 And being fully persuaded that, what he had promised, he was able also to perform.

22 And therefore it was dimputed

Paul speaks of that which justifies man before God, viz. faith alone, wholly apart from works; James of the proof before men, that he who professes to have justifying faith really has it. Paul speaks of what God sees-faith; James of what men see-works, as the visible evidence of faith. Paul draws his illustration from Gen. 15. 6; James from Gen. 22. 1-19. James' key-phrase is "ye see" (Jas. 2. 24), for men cannot see faith except as manifested through works.

The seven results of justification.

HEREFORE being justified by afaith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ:

Part III. Sanctification: dwelling sin, and the gospel remedy (to 8. 13).

(1) Through Adam, sin and death.

12 Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all 3have sinned:

13 (For until the law sin was in the world: but sin is not mimputed when there is no law.

14 Nevertheless "death reigned from 4Adam to Moses, even over them that had not sinned after the similitude of Adam's transgression, who is the figure of him that was to come.

(2) Through Christ, righteousness and life.

15 But not as the offence, so also is the free gift. For if through the offence of one many be dead, much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man, Jesus Christ, hath abounded unto many. 16 And not as it was by one that sinned, so is the gift: for the judgment was by one to condemnation.

<sup>1</sup> Christ died under our sins (1 Pet. 2. 24; 2 Cor. 5. 21); that He was raised and exalted to God's right hand, "now to appear in the presence of God for us" (Heb. 9. 24), is the token that our sins are gone, that His work for us has the divine approbation and that we, for whom He suffered, are completely justified.

<sup>2</sup> The "wherefore" relates back to Rom. 3. 19-23, and may be regarded as a continuation of the discussion of the universality of sin, interrupted (Rom. 3. 24-5. 11) by the passage on justification and its results.

<sup>3</sup> The first sin wrought the moral ruin of the race. The demonstration is sim-(1) Death is universal (vs. 12, 14), all die: sinless infants, moral people, religious people, equally with the depraved. For a universal effect there must be a universal cause; that cause is a state of universal sin (v. 12). (2) But this universal state must have had a cause. It did. The consequence of Adam's sin was versal state must have had a cause. It did. The consequence of Adam's sin was that "the many were made sinners" (v. 19)—"By the offence of one judgment came upon all men unto condemnation" (v. 18). (3) Personal sins are not meant here. From Adam to Moses death reigned (v. 14), although, there being no law, personal guilt was not imputed (v. 13). Accordingly, from Gen. 4. 7 to Ex. 29. 14 the sin-offering is not once mentioned. Then, since physical death from Adam to Moses was not due to the sinful acts of those who die (v. 13), it follows that it was due to a universal sinful state, or nature, and that state is declared to be our inheritance from Adam. (4) The moral state of fallen man is described in Scripture (Gen. 6. 5; 1 Ki. 8. 46; Psa. 14. 1-3; 39. 5; Jer. 17. 9; Mt. 18. 11; Mk. 7. 20. 23; Rom. 1. 21; 2.; 3. 9-19; 7. 24; 8. 7; John 3. 6; 1 Cor. 2. 14; 2 Cor. 3. 14; 4. 4; Gal. 5. 19-21; Eph. 2. 1-3, 11, 12; 4. 18-22; Col. 1. 21; Heb. 3. 13; Jas. 4. 14). See 1 Cor. 15. 22.

<sup>4</sup> Broadly, the contrast is: Adam: sin, death; Christ: righteousness, life. Adam drew down into his ruin the old creation (Rom. 8. 19-22) of which he was lord and but the free gift is of many aoffences

3 So then if, while gher husband liveth, she be married to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if gher husband be dead. she is free from that law; so that she is no adulteress, though she be married to another man.

4 Wherefore, my brethren, ye also hare become dead to the law by the body of Christ; that ye should be married to another, even to him who is raised from the dead, that we should bring forth fruit unto God.

5 For when we were in the flesh, the motions of sins, which were by the law, did work in our members to bring forth fruit unto death.

6 But now we kare delivered from the law, that being dead wherein we were held; that we should serve in <sup>1</sup>newness of spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter.

(d) The believer is not made holy by the law.

7 What shall we say then? Is the law bsin? God forbid. Nay, I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known mlust, except the law had said, "Thou shalt not covet.

illustrated by the effect of death upon servitude (6. 16-23), and marriage (7. 1-6). (1) The old servitude was nominally to the law, but, since the law had no delivering power, the real master continued to be sin in the nature. The end was death. The law could not give life, and "sin" (here personified as the old self) is in itself deathful. But death in another form, i.e. crucifixion with Christ, has intervened (v. 6) to free the servant from his double bondage to sin (v. 6, 7), and to the law (7. 4, 6). (2) This effect of death is further illustrated by widowhood. Death dissolves the marriage relation (7. 1-3). As natural death frees a wife from the law of her husband, so crucifixion with Christ sets the believer free from the law. See Gal. 3. 24, note.

<sup>1</sup> Cf. Rom. 2. 29; 2 Cor. 3. 6. "The letter" is a Paulinism for the law, as "spirit" in these passages is his word for the relationships and powers of new life in Christ Jesus. In 2 Cor. 3. a series is presented of contrasts of law with "spirit," of the old covenant and the new. The contrast is not between two methods of interpretation, literal and spiritual, but between two methods of divine dealing: one through the law, the other through the Holy Spirit.

<sup>2</sup> The passage (vs. 7-25) is autobiographical. Paul's religious experience was in three strongly marked phases: (1) He was a godly Jew under the law. That the passage does not refer to that period is clear from his own explicit statements elsewhere. At that time he held himself to be "blameless" as concerned the law (Phil.

20 Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but asin that dwelleth in me.

21 I find then a <sup>3</sup>law, that, when I would do good, evil is present with me.

22 For I delight in the law of God after the inward man:

23 But I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of asin which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me efrom the body

25 I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then with the mind I myself serve the flaw of God; but with the gflesh the law of asin.

3. 6). He had "lived in all good conscience" (Acts 23. 1). (2) With his conversion came new light upon the law itself. He now perceived it to be "spiritual" (v. 14). He now saw that, so far from having kept it, he was condemned by it. He had supposed himself to be "alive," but now the commandment really "came" (v. 9) and he "died." Just when the apostle passed through the experience of Rom. 7. 7-25 we are not told. Perhaps during the days of physical blindness at Damascus (Acts 9. 9); perhaps in Arabia (Gal. 1. 17). It is the experience of a renewed man, under the law, and still ignorant of the delivering power of the Holy Spirit (cf. Rom. 8. 2). (3) With the great revelations afterward embodied in Galatians and Romans, the apostle's experience entered its third phase. He now knew himself to be "dead to the law by the body of Christ," and, in the power of the indwelling Spirit, "free from the law of sin and death" (8. 2); while "the right-eousness of the law" was wrought in him (not by him) while he walked after the Spirit (8.4). Romans 7. is the record of past conflicts and defeats experienced as a renewed man under law.

"Carnal" = "fleshly" is Paul's word for the Adamic nature, <sup>1</sup> Cf. 1 Cor. 3. 1, 4. and for the believer who "walks," i.e. lives, under the power of it. "Natural" is his characteristic word for the unrenewed man (1 Cor. 2. 14), as "spiritual" designates the renewed man who walks in the Spirit (1 Cor. 3. 1; Gal. 6. 1).

<sup>2</sup> The apostle personifies the strife of the two natures in the believer, the old or Adamic nature, and the divine nature received through the new birth (1 Pet. 1. 23; 2 Pet. 1. 4; Gal. 2. 20; Col. 1. 27). The "I" which is Saul of Tarsus, and the "I" which is Paul the apostle are at strife, and "Paul" is in defeat. In Chapter 8, this strife is effectually taken up on the believer's behalf by the Holy Spirit (8. 2; Gal. 5. 16, 17) and Paul is victorious. Contra, Eph. 6. 12, where the conflict is not fleshly, but spiritual.

3 Six "laws" are to be distinguished in Romans: The law of Moses, which condemns (3. 19); "law" as a principle (3. 21); the law of faith, which excludes selfrighteousness (3. 27); the law of sin in the members, which is victorious over the law of the mind (7. 21, 23, 25); the law of the mind, which consents to the law of Moses but cannot do it because of the law of sin in the members (7. 16, 23); and the "law of the Spirit," having power to deliver the believer from the law of sin which is in his members, and his conscience from condemnation by the Mosaic law. Moreover the Spirit works in the yielded believer the very righteousness which Moses' law requires (8. 2, 4).

CHAPTER 8.

HERE is therefore now no acondemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, bwho walk not after a Judgments the flesh, but after the Spirit.

(2) The creation, delivered from suffering and death, kept for the sons of God. (Cf. Gen. 3. 18, 19.)

18 For I mreckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us.

19 For the earnest expectation of the ncreature waiteth for the omanifestation of the sons of God.

20 For the "creature was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him who hath subjected the same in hope.

21 Because the <sup>n</sup>creature itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God.

22 For we know that the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now.

23 And not only they, but ourselves also, which have the firstfruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the padoption, to the gredemption of our body.

24 For 'we are saved by hope: but hope that is seen is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for?

25 But if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it.

Hitherto in Romans the Holy Spirit has been mentioned but once (Rom. 5. 5); in this chapter He is mentioned nineteen times. Redemption is by blood and by power (Ex. 14. 30, note). Rom. 3. 21-5. 11 speaks of the redemptive price; Rom. 8. of redemptive power.

<sup>2</sup> Gr. teknon, "one born," a child (and so in vs. 17, 21); not, as in verse 14, "sons" (Gr. huios). See Gal. 4. 1, 7, where babyhood and sonhood are contrasted. Also "Adoption" (Rom. 8. 15, 23; Eph. 1. 5).

(3) The Spirit an indwelling Intercessor. (Cf. Heb. 7. 25.)

26 Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for we know not awhat we should pray for as we ought: but the Spirit bitself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered.

27 And he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, because he maketh d Foreknowintercession for the saints according to the will of God.

(4) The unfailing purpose of e Predestina-God through the gospel.

16 So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that sheweth mercy.

17 For the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, dEven for this same purpose have I raised thee up, that I might shew my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth.

30 What shall we say then? That the Gentiles, which followed not after prighteousness, have attained to righteousness, even the righteousness which is of faith.

31 But Israel, which followed after the law of qrighteousness, hath not attained to the law of righteousness.

32 Wherefore? Because sought it not by faith, but as it were by the works of the 'law. For they stumbled at that stumblingstone;

CHAPTER 10.

(6) The apparent failure of the promises to Israel explained by their unbelief.

BRETHREN, my heart's desire and prayer to God ufor Israel is, that they might be "saved.

2 For I bear them record that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge.

3 For they being ignorant of God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own 1wrighteousness, <sup>2</sup> That Israel has not been forever set aside is the theme of this chapter. (1) The salvation of Paul proves that there is still a remnant (v. 1). (2) The doctrine of the remnant proves it (vs. 2-6). (3) The present national unbelief was foreseen (vs. 7-(5) Israel is judi-(6) They are to be 10). (4) Israel's unbelief is the Gentile opportunity (vs. 11-25). cially broken off from the good olive tree, Christ (vs. 17-22). grafted in again (vs. 23, 24). (7) The promised Deliverer will come out of Zion and the nation will be saved (vs. 25-29). That the Christian now inherits the distinctive Jewish promises is not taught in Scripture. The Christian is of the heavenly seed of Abraham (Gen. 15. 5, 6; Gal. 3. 29), and partakes of the spiritual blessings of the Abrahamic Covenant (Gen. 15. 18, note); but Israel as a nation always has its own place, and is yet to have its greatest exaltation as the earthly people of God. See "Israel" (Gen. 12, 2; Rom. 11, 26); "Kingdom" (Gen. 1, 26-28; Zech. 12, 8).

16 For if the firstfruit be holy, the lump is also holy: and if the root be holy, so are the branches.

17 And if some of the branches be broken off, and thou, being a wild olive tree, wert graffed in among them, and with them partakest of the root and fatness of the olive tree;

18 Boast not against the branches. But if thou boast, thou bearest not the root, but the root thee.

19 Thou wilt say then, branches were broken off, that I might be graffed in.

20 Well; because of nunbelief they were broken off, and thou ostandest by faith. Be not phighminded, but fear:

21 For if God spared not the natural branches, take heed lest he also spare not thee.

22 Behold therefore the goodness and severity of God: on them which fell, severity; but toward thee, goodness, if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise thou also shalt be cut off.

23 And they also, if they abide not still in unbelief, shall be graffed in: for God is able to graff them in again.

24 For if thou wert cut out of the olive tree which is wild by nature, and wert graffed contrary to nature into a good olive tree: how much more shall these, which be the natural branches, be graffed into their own olive tree?

25 For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this 'mystery, lest ye should be wise in your own conceits; that blindness in part is happened to Israel, until the 25fulness of the Gentiles be come in.

<sup>1</sup> Remnant, Summary: In the history of Israel a "remnant" may be discerned. a spiritual Israel within the national Israel. In Elijah's time 7,000 had not bowed the knee to Baal (1 Ki. 19. 18). In Isaiah's time it was the "very small remnant" for whose sake God still forbore to destroy the nation (Isa. 1. 9). During the captivities the remnant appears in Jews like Ezekiel, Daniel, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, Esther and Mordecai. At the end of the 70 years of Babylonian captivity it was the remnant which returned under Ezra and Nehemiah. At the advent of our Lord, John the Baptist, Simeon, Anna, and "them that looked for redemption in Jerusalem" (Lk. 2. 38), were the remnant. During the church-age the remnant is composed of believing Jews (Rom. 11. 4, 5). But the chief interest in the remnant is prophetic. During the great tribulation a remnant out of all Israel will turn to Jesus as Messiah, and will become His witnesses after the removal of the church (Rev. 7. 3-8). Some of these will undergo martyrdom (Rev. 6. 9-11), some will be spared to enter the millennial kingdom (Zech. 12. 6-13. 9). Many of the Psalms express, prophetically, the joys and sorrows of the tribulation remnant.

age, viz. the outcalling from among the Gentiles of a people for Christ's name, "the church which is His body" (Eph. 1. 22, 23). Cf. Acts 15. 14; Eph. 4. 11-13; 1 Cor. 12. 12, 13. It must be distinguished from "the times of the Gentiles" (Lk. 21. 24).

1 Summary: Israel, so named from the grandson of Abraham, was chosen for a fourfold mission: (1) To witness to the unity of God in the midst of universal idolatry (Deut. 6. 4, with Isa. 43. 10, 12); (2) to illustrate to the nations the blessedness of serving the true God (Deut. 33. 26-29; 1 Chr. 17. 20, 21; Psa. 144. 15); (3) to receive, preserve, and transmit the Scriptures (Deut. 4. 5-8; Rom. 3. 1, 2); (4) to produce, as to His humanity, the Messiah (Gen. 3. 15; 12. 3; 22. 18; 28. 10-14; 49. 10; 2 Sam. 7. 12-16; Isa. 7. 14; 9. 6; Mt. 1. 1; Rom. 1. 3). According to the prophets, Israel, regathered from all nations, restored to her own land and converted, is yet to have her greatest earthly exaltation and glory. See "Kingdom (O.T.)" (Gen. 1. 26; Zech. 12. 8; N.T., Lk. 1. 31-33; 1 Cor. 15. 24); "Davidic Covenant" (2 Sam. 7. 8-17, note).
